ALBANICA WINERY

PULS TOUR

Albanica Vineyards, located along Albania's stunning coastline, spans 12 hectares of fertile Mediterranean soil, with each vine carefully planted by Dritan Prifti. From the vineyards, Dritan enjoys a breathtaking view of the ancient Ardenica Monastery, a 750-year-old monument that has stood watch over this landscape of pine forests and flourishing vineyards.

The unique terroir—composed of silty soil rich in organic matter and balanced with sand, silt, and clay—combined with Mediterranean breezes and abundant sunlight creates the perfect conditions for cultivating Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot.

Collaborating with Master Winemaker Volker Scheu, who brings over a century of German winemaking tradition, Dritan has crafted Albanica wines that blend Western and Eastern winemaking practices.

The result is a balanced and elegant wine that reflects the region's heritage and modern innovation, delighting wine connoisseurs around the world.
